ERECTING A DRINKING FOUNT

In Pretty Riverside Park-Twas Charley Van 'Keuren's Idea, and He Had Intended Securing Small Subscriptions, From Many People, But Mr. Schmulbach Generously "Did the Whole Thing."

Several months ago, Messrs. Charles E. VanKeuren and Henry Schmulbach met in a barber shop. Mr. Schmulbach was seated in a high chair, and a small boy of dusky countenance was busily engaged shining his shoes. This, however, did not deter Mr. VanKeuren from broaching an idea that he had originated shortly before. This was nothing more or less than the raising of a fund of $1,000 by popular subscription with which to erect a rivermen's monument in Riverside Park, on the river front, opposite the Stamm hotel, with a drink ing fountain in connection.
"I have some encouragement and be money can be raised," said Mr. VanKeuren.

"Oh, that's too small a matter to re-ceive subscriptions for," responded Mr Schmulbach. "One man ought to take This didn't squelch the good Mr. Van-

The plans, in time were submitted, and pleased Mr. Schmulbach so well that he agreed then and there to bear the entire expense, reaching about Last night the following communication

Mr. Charles E. Vankeuren:

To the honorable mayor, president and members of the city council of Wheeling. GENTLEMEN:—Some few months ago. I conceived the idea of raising a popular subscription for the purpose of placing in Riverside Park a moniment to the river interests, in connection with a public deinting fountain, believing this would add to what in a few years will be one of the most attractive spots in our city, and in addition be an object of interest to the stranger within our gates.

Within our gates. Within our gates. Within paper and presented it, to me of our enterprising citizen of the control of our enterprising citizen of the control of the donor. And very generously donated the entire amount needed, and in behalf of the donor, Mr. Henry Schmulbach, I respectfully ask of your honorable body permission to erect a monument and public drinking fountain in Hiverside Park, and ask the acceptance of the same by the city of Wheeling, when completed.

While he was at work about the rolls an ingot becam fastened in the rolls, stopping the ma-chinery. The ingot was twisted in the shape of a letter "Z" and it is now thought had been slightly cooled. When the machinery was again set in motion the rear end of the sizsling steel flew off the rolls and struck Mr. Brettelle on the breast, throwing him against the off the rolls and struck Mr. Brettelle on the breast, throwing him against the wall of the building. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14,-The cabinet meeting to-day was uneventful. Secretary Long was the only absentee. Secretary Gage continued the discussion of the money situation in New York and went over situation in New York and went over the ground which he will cover in his annual report. The report is confirmed that the secretary has no idea of buying government bonds at this time except in some unlooked for contingency. The question of a civil governor for Cuba was not brought up.

RICES ARE ORDERED

To Discontinue Their Open Air Meet ings at the Hub Corner-They are Well Known in New York.

It was learned last evening that the authorities have issued an order prohibiting the man and woman, Mr. and Mrs. Rice, strangers in the city, from continuing their addresses on semi-religious topics to crowds at the Hut corner, where they have been ad-dressing open air sesisons since Sunday. A couple answering descriptions to Mr. and Mrs. Rice have been sent out of other cities by the police, and suspicion as to the genuineness of this ouple's utterances has been enter ings. The woman has an original and vinning delivery, and last night she was assured of money for legal counse o defend her case if she decides to fight the contemplated municipal edict

Of the pair a New York dispatch to the Chicago Inter-Ocean says: A man and woman, giving their names as Rice, visited Jamestown, N. Y., about a week ago, and, representing themselves as evangelists, secured quarters at the boarding-house of Mrs.

J. C. Humphrey. The man sang in the streets, and when a crowd was attracted the woman would preach. She at-tacked existing institutions with surprising audacity, and managed to se ing. She was so violent in her abust of the clergy, churches and capitalists, that the authorities compelled her to

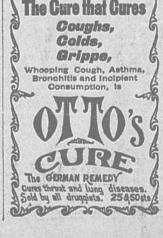

Mr. and Mrs. Rice were familiar figures to pedestrians who passed the corner of Broadway and Twenty-sixth streets, New York, at times during the summer months. Nearly every even-ing the couple held the attention of a crowd at this corner, and the contribu tions they received were generally lib eral. The man told his listeners that he was a Texan and had spent much of his time on cattle ranges, but had abandoned that vocation to assist his companion in "saving souls." He is six feet tail, well proportioned, and some-what resembles William F. Cody. He wore a sombrero and had a pleasant contraito voice. It was his songs that attracted the crowds. Mrs. Rice, although illiterate, was a good talker. She was apparently about thirty-eight years of age. She was so prosperous during the last two months of her stay in New York the course. in New York that she could afford tailor-made clothes, although when first appeared in the street her attire was at times shabby. She said she was working in the interest of the true gospel of Jesus Christ, and that the m subscribed would be used in the interest of degraded men and women. Her nerally met with a satisfacwhen they did not, Mrs. Rice exclaim

"I was forced to patronize a dentist to-day and my bill will be $12. There is only $9 in the hat to-night, and shall call upon this audience to con-tribute $3 more. I cannot continue my work among the unfortunates unless l have my teeth fixed."

The appeal had the desired effect.

"A' Country Merchant." That unfailing indication of merit in dramatic production, an increased attendance at a second performance, attested the pleasure which "A Country Merchant" is affording patrons of the Grand Opera House. The audience was larger last night, and the splendid work of Mr. Charles Cowles and the capable actors and actresses in the cast was heartily applauded. The play is skill fully constructed, natural in all its scenes and characters, and tells a fascinating story. The specialties are more than pleasing. "A Country Merchant" will be repated this afternoon and even-

Centinues to Grow, and the Amount

Are Contributing Their Pennies for a Donation to the Fund-Ensign Doddridge the Only Graduate from Union in 1889-The Time of the Visit of the Committee to Washington not yet Determined.

The Doddridge sword fund is grow ing at a satisfactory rate, and there is will be raised. Last evening Prof. J. M. Hammond, principal of Union school, called at the Intelligencer office and entered a $5 subscription in the name of old Union. He said:

"We are glad to aid in this project.

John Doddridge was the only graduate in the public school class of 1889 whom old Union contributed, and of course we feel a great interest in his career To-day I announced to the scholars tha would receive their contributions to the Intelligencer's Doddridge sword fund, and although I do not know what proportions the contribution of the chool will reach. I am confident it will at least amount to $5, which I will hand you now. Anything in excess of that amount we will hand in later."

There is nothing new in regardito the proposed visit of the Fort Henry tablet ommittee to Washington for the purpose of pressing upon Admiral Dewey his acceptance of the invitation to com to Wheeling, and the committee will likely not meet until the admiral, through his secretary, names a date when it will be convenient for him to receive the delegation.

The action of the first branch of council in turning down the resolution ap-propriating $200 with which to purchase the city of Wheeling's wedding present for Admiral Dewey, now necessitates action by the liberal minded business people of the city, and no doubt if Mr. Waterhouse carries out his idea of making a canvass of the business district for the sum needed he will have i within a very short time. Of course, now that the council has acted adversely, it would never do to let the matter

WHEN DEWEY COMES

For the Intelligencer. There'll be gay times here in Wheeling when the admiral appears, and unless you wish the earache, put some cotton in your ears, irra gala day is certain—Wheeling s ardor appear falls. nover falls— And George'll wonder what has struck him when we tap our "keg of nails,"

Yet if he should feel an-hungered, as he did that morn in May When he rested from the battle, in far off Manila bay We'll be ready to refresh him, and right here 'tis well to state
That old Wheeling makes good china and the finest of tin-plate.

Though we don't go much on fighting, and may lack the martial soul.

Still we'll bet an even hundred we've got boys can beat him bowl;

And although we lack amusements of the oriental type,
We'll take him to the Riverside and let him hit the "pipe."

If his eyesight should be falling, we can fix him up quite grand. For the Central makes good "giasses" that are used throughout the land; and we'll kindly soothe his painte in a giass which mildly cheers. For the nectar of Olympus isn't in it with our beern.

Though we may be shy on arches—have no wattues curved in stone—We will give him true hearts' welcome in a way that will be known;
For ten thousand yards of bunting will his blue eyes proudly greet.
While he marvels at our carpet—the rich mud beneath his feet. On that other George's birthday—who's been dead a hundred years—We are happy to enabrine you where ten millions of your peers
Think by right you are entitled, for your deeds of valor done.
To a seat as far to forward as our saint, "George Washington.

So we pray that you'll be present and will hring your wife along.
To enjoy the lordly welcome that will blase the way slong:
For the hearts of West Virginia beat as loyal as of yore—
When Fort Henry and a cornfield loafed upon the river shore.—J. C. B.

Highest Wages for Years. CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Beginning January 1, next, steel rail workers in the South Chicago mills of the Illinois Steel Company will receive record-breaking wages. Owing to the increased price of the finished product the men, some 300 in number, will be able to earn from 300 in number, will be able to earn from $150 to $300 a month. This unusual condition is due to the fact that the company failed to readjust the sliding scale of wages last June, and under the contracts a new scale cannot be arranged before June 1, 1900, and cannot so into effect for six months after that date. W. C. Davis, vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron. Tin and Steel Workers, says the nearest approach to the wages which will be paid was in 1892, when the price of the steel rails reached $29.

WELCOMES DEATH. Man With Broken Back Seems Happy the End is Near.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 14.— The strange case of James Mitchell, who has been dying by inches for several weeks, has caused considerable interest both to medical men and those who know him. Mitchell is a young man of twenty-three years, and was employed as a tool dresser in the Jake's run oll field in this county. Some time in July 1897, Mitchell was working on a tubing board at a well and fell from near the top of the derrick. His back was broken in three places and he was otherwise injured.

He was taken to a Pittsburgh hospital. Three separate sections of his vertebrae were taken from his backbone and he began to recover. A year after the accident Mitchell had recovered sufficiently to raise himself in bod and his friends felt sure of his complete re covery. Several operations were per-formed, but they only afforded tempor ary relief, and Mitchell was taken to Wheeling hospital, where he was re fused admission. Mitchell's body, from his waist up is in a healthy condition but below the waist is badly wasted. He cats an ordinary amount of food each day, but stubbornly refuses any further medical attention or assistance. He knows that he can not live long and seems happy that death will claim him in a few days.

Two New Steamers. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—The Pitts-burgh, Cincinnati and Louisville Transportation Company will buy or build two new steamers, it was reported this morning. An effort was made to see Captain John M. Phillips in reference to the matter, but he could not be found. The company was recently incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, and among the incorporators is Lee H. Brooks, of Cincinnati, owner of the big nued on motion of the derendant, excursion steamer Island Queen. It risk woman claims $100,000 for has not been made known what part he will take in the new company. It was also stated to-day that a well known young man who is familiar with the freight business, had been offered the management of the concern. The line at present owns the steamer City of Pittsburgh. At the outset the owners said that if the business justified it more boats would be added to the line. It appears that the claims made yesterday by some of the firemen are not correct. It was stated that with one exception the firemen running on boat in the pools were receiving $60 s month. It is positively announced today that no boats running out of Pittsburgh are paying more than $50. Many firemen have been brought to Pittsburgh through the publication of the dispute over wages. As a result, one operators to-day said that he had three applications from out-of-town fireme for jobs. It is thought that the combination will pay $60 to Ohio river fire men when there is a shipping stage in the Ohio river. Several boats running n the pools paid $60 for a week, and then discharged the $60 men and hired firemen at $50 a month.
